Macy's Gift

by Nancy Fraser

Macy Williams loves her career as a photojournalist. She loves the freedom to travel, to take pictures of people, places, and events that help shape the world. But, when her brother and sister-in-law die in an automobile accident, Macy is drawn back to her small hometown to handle their estate. In and out, that's her plan ... until she discovers she's been named the sole guardian of her two nieces: eleven year old Brittany and four year old, autistic, Lily Anne.

Cordell (Cord) Adams was Macy's brother's best friend, and also the Williams' family primary physician. He's surprised by his friend's choice of guardian for the girls. He only met Macy once, and the meeting was anything but cordial. Now, he must find a way to make peace with the opinionated Macy and help her navigate this sudden change in— not just her life—but that of the girls as well. Hopefully, his faith will help him make the right decisions.

Can two strong-willed individuals set aside their differences for the good of two young girls who long for stability and love?
