Adopted in Arkansas by Kirsten Osbourne

Socialite Emily Simpson, niece of Dr. Lachele Simpson, feels like she's out of place. Living off her trust fund, she volunteers, but nothing seems to be quite right in her life. She feels she has absolutely no purpose. When she consults her aunt, Lachele suggests she use Matchrimony to find a husband. All Emily really needs to do is settle down.

Farmer Derrick Bobo recently lost his little sister to cancer, and he's fighting to get custody of his autistic nephew. The boy's paternal grandparents want him as well, but Derrick knows they're not best for him. They're already dealing with the health issues that come with age. His social worker believes if he marries, he'll have a better chance at gaining custody of Zach. Derrick decides to contact Dr. Lachele and get married quickly.

Will Emily be able to adjust to being the wife of a farmer? And more importantly, how will she deal with a boy on the spectrum?
